While the Group at our January meeting was small the discussion was very lively and productive. While a lot of good ideas were brought up, and we still have a lot of ideas to work on, the 2 major changes that were decided on was to rename PD Camp to PD Weekend Retreat to reflect more of what it really is. The second decision was to make Changes to “Pedal for Parkinson’s” however nothing definite was set as to what it would be. If you couldn’t make the meeting or have come up with some new ideas since the meeting, please let us know, at contact@cipdsupportgroup.org
